Sometimes we forget to include little ones in our family team! Letting children contribute to your household even in a small way helps them build confidence as well as an understanding of their part in the whole! Use the house illustrations to talk about how each part is important! A house without windows would be very dark. A house without a roof would be very wet! Go down to your basement and find parts of the house that might be unseen but are VERY important! God has a special part for each of us to do too!
